

CEDIAS Conference room
5, rue Las Cases – 75007 Paris
Métro : Solférino

Interpretation English – French/ French– English

Interpretation Sign French Language

REGISTRATION REQUIRED

Contact : marie.coutant@ehess.fr

Disability and Birth at Stake: Issues and decisions in perinatalty

Worshop - 13th november 2009

Organized by Programme Handicap et Sciences Sociales (EHESS)

In partnernship with :

Fédérative Institute for Disability Research
Alter, European Journal of Disability research
CEDIAS / Musée social

CEDIAS Conference room - 5 rue Las Cases Paris 7<sup>ème</sup>
9am - 18pm

The purpose of the scientific workshops organised by the Disability and Social Sciences Programme is to exchange views on the complex and ambivalent relationships between human and social sciences and disability as a subject of research, a matter which is not sufficiently examined within EHESS.

Following an initial conference – “Disability, a Motor for Social Sciences” - which compared Anglo-Saxon and French perspectives relating to the disciplines which constitute Disability Studies, this new event will look at how disability relates to perinatal issues. During the period when the collective mobilisation of disabled people and Disability Studies were working to change political attitudes towards disability, technological innovations overran the field of perinatal care, significantly reformatting the experiences of women and healthcare professionals and involving the practices which surround birth in a new form of social treatment of disability. It is often when anticipating a disability, and in the absence of a curative solution, that life or death decisions are taken. Yet such anticipation would appear to take recent debates on disability into consideration. An exchange of views may allow birth practitioners and researchers from different fields to think together about relatively compartmentalized areas of intervention.

Programme

Morning 9am – 12.

Chairman Yohann Aucante, Politist, Ehess, Programme Director

9:00 – 9:30	Reception
9:30 – 9:45	Isabelle Ville, Disability Sociologist, Inserm Prenatal diagnosis and the prevention of disability: what is at stake
9:45 – 10:15	Jean-Paul Gaudillière, Historian of Sciences Inserm-Ehess The Biomedicalisation of Pathological Heredity: Pedigrees, Molecules and the Genetical Council in France after 1945
10:15 – 10:45	Marc Dommergues, Gynecologist-Obstetrician, Hôpital Pitié-Salpêtrière Antenatal Diagnosis in France: Norms and Regulations
10:45 - 11:00	Break
11:00 - 11:30	Clare Williams, Health Sociologist, King's College London Framing choices in antenatal screening and testing: the experiences of practitioners
11:30 – 12:00	Discussion
12:00 – 14:00	Lunch

Organizing Committee: Yohann Aucante, Marie Coutant, Eloi Ficquet, Alain Musset, Jean-François Ravaut, Isabelle Ville, Myriam Winance

Afternoon 14pm – 18pm

Chairman Eloi Ficquet, Anthropologist, Ehess

14:00 – 14:30	Alain Musset, Geographer, Ehess Birth selection and Science Fiction: Towards the Brave New World ?
14:30 – 15:00	Philippe Évrard, neuropédiatre, Hôpital Robert Debré Risks of birth and Evolution of Practices
15:00 – 15:30	Elsa Gisquet, sociologue, Inca Disability and decisions to terminate life in neonatal intensive care units
15:30 – 16:00	Discussion
16:00 – 16:15	Break
16:15 – 16:45	Tom Shakespeare, Disability sociologist, Policy, Ethics and Life Sciences Research Centre, Newcastle University Choices, reasons and feelings: prenatal diagnosis as disability dilemma
16:45 – 18:00 :	Open Discussion, moderator Olivier Cayla, Dpt of law, Ehess
18:00	Cocktail